DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 30-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 30-32 provide for the use of compound of claim 18 for the preparation of medicaments, but, since the claims do not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claims 30-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 18-26, 29, 33 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Bertolini et al (US 6,034,096).

The instant claims are drawn to a compound of formula (I) and to a pharmaceutical composition comprising said compound.

Bertolini et al teach a compound, also designated as formula (I), that has a generic structure that encompasses compounds of instant formula (I). Bertolini et al also teach a pharmaceutical composition comprising a compound within the scope of their general formula (I).

The instant claims are rendered obvious over Bertolini et al since Bertolini et al teach a generic structure that encompasses the generic structure, and compounds of the instant formula (I). A person having ordinary skill in the art would easily select a compound that is a species of the general formula (I) of the present invention, to practice the invention taught by Bertolini et al, and essentially practice the instant invention as well.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 18-26, 29, 33 and 34 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-3 and 6 of U.S. Patent No. 6,034,096. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because US 6,034,096 teaches a compound, also designated as formula (I), that has a generic structure that encompasses compounds of instant formula (I). The patent also teaches a pharmaceutical composition comprising a compound within the scope of their general formula (I).

There is no patentable distinction between the instant claims and those of the US patent since the patent teaches a generic structure that encompasses the generic structure, and compounds of the instant formula (I).

Allowable Subject Matter

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: claims 27 and 28 are drawn to compounds that are not taught or suggested by the closest prior art of record.

The examiner would like to suggest that applicants amend the independent claim to read "A compound..." and dependent claims to read "The compound...".
